"PRETTY BOY" ESCAPES TRAP IN MISSOURI

Notorious Outlaw is Believed Wounded in Iowa Brush

BULLETIN
Fulton, Mo., Oct. 12.—(AP)—The trail of three men, one believed to be Charles Arthur (Pretty Boy) Floyd, outlaw, was lost at Kingdom City, at the intersection of Highways No. 40 and 54, by Audrian county officers today.

Kingdom City is about 12 miles south of the corn field where the southwest outlaw and two companions were reported surrounded. Officers of the Missouri state highway patrol, county and city police rushed into the area.

All roads were blocked. Floyd, who this week first was definitely linked with the slaying of four officers and their convict prisoner at Kansas City June 17, 1933, was reported in Iowa yesterday, headed south, presumably to retreats in Missouri or Oklahoma.

Cresco, Iowa, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, the scourge of the southwest, scurried alive but perhaps wounded today from a death trap set by the law. The notorious desperado and two companions, both of whom were unidentified, headed apparently for a fair in the Oak hills after shooting it out with officers.

They were reported today to have been sighted near Princeton, Mo., in their flight to the Missouri badlands.

After a sharp but indecisive exchange of fire between the fugitives and officers yesterday afternoon, Deputy Sheriff Will Owens said there was "no question" but that the elusive Floyd had been encountered. He said there was a strong possibility that one of the bandits was wounded.

Iowa officers caught up with the three men about 3 P. M. near a farm house one and a half miles south of McIntire, but the fugitives ran from the field to a black sedan, and roared away with the officers in pursuit.

Intended Death Trap
The bandits led the officers, Owens said, into what was intended to be a death trap of their own. The fugitives sped down a blind road, at the end of which was a vacant house, stationed themselves inside and opened fire as their pursuers approached.

Owens said the car about 100 feet from the house and the officers took cover, but were unable to spot their quarry. The bandits, their fire ineffective, climbed back into their car and sped past the officers — "going lickity split," Owens said, "and their guns spitting bullets."

Unarmed, the officers resumed the pursuit over rough roads that rendered their gunfire ineffective, but they were soon outdistanced. Owens said Floyd gained a getaway to the north, turned west and then apparently doubled back to the south.

SEEN IN MISSOURI?
Mexico, Mo., Oct. 12.—(AP)—Officers rushed five miles south of here on highway 54 this morning to investigate reports that three men, one of whom was said to resemble Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, had been surrounded in a corn field.

Advised of this, Col. Marvin Castell, superintendent of Missouri highway police, ordered out his men with the remark "it looks good."

Patrolmen surrounded the territory about Mexico and also blocked the bridge over the Missouri river near St. Charles.

The car used by the three was described as bearing Illinois license plates. Some confusion prevailed as to the numbers of the plates.

Castell said the outlaw is "known to have connections" in the territory where he was reported.

By 10 A. M., 25 officers had joined in the search.

Headed South
Belief of officers one of the three might be the long sought outlaw was strengthened by the fact the desperado was reported in Iowa late yesterday, headed south, and reported later at Princeton, Mo.

O. L. Blanchard, salesman for the Western States Specialty Co. of Kansas City, a former detective, reported to Mexico police he had definitely identified Floyd when three men stopped him five miles south of here this morning.

Blanchard told the officers he was on his way from Columbia to Mexico when he stopped to help three men stalled in a lane just off the main highway.

ROCKFORD TORCH SLAYER'S CASE IN HIGH COURT

Circumstances Which Convicted Woman are Reviewed

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 12.—(AP)—Circumstantial evidence upon which Mrs. May Hanson of Rockford was convicted of murdering her divorced husband was reviewed today before the Illinois supreme court in oral arguments concerning her appeal from a 14-year sentence.

Frank H. Hall, defense attorney, was scheduled to present rebuttal arguments following the court's recess at noon.

State's Attorney Robert E. Nash reviewed trial testimony that Mrs. Hanson had animosity toward her divorced husband, Earl Hanson, and that he was fatally burned by gasoline thrown into his automobile and ignited with a safety match.

The court is not expected to rule on the case at the October term. Arguments of the attorneys must be confined to evidence presented before the jury at Rockford.

Hall insisted that all evidence was circumstantial and that Mrs. Hanson had aided the investigation.

The state's attorney emphasized the contention that the fatal fire was not caused by a gasoline tank explosion.

He was questioned on the bench about how the gasoline could have been thrown and then ignited.

RALSTON AGAIN CHOSEN LEADER BLACKHAWK AREA

Dixon Man Is Chosen Scouts President for Third Year

John G. Ralston, president of the Reynolds Wire Co. of this city, was re-elected president of the Blackhawk Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the annual council meeting and banquet at the New Hotel in Rockford last evening, his unanimous return to office being fitting recognition of his whole-hearted and enthusiastic work for the Scouting program.

In connection with the meeting Mr. Ralston submitted his report of activities and accomplishments of the Area during the past year.

Looking back over the past year of the work and service given in behalf of the boys of the Blackhawk Area Council, we should feel proud of our record of achievement. A year ago we had three paid field men and one office secretary; today we have five trained field men and two girls in the office, serving better than 3,400 boys and men in the six counties assigned to us by our national charter.

We are stronger in our financial position, as well as paid executive growth by 25 per cent of men and boys over last year's record.

"The year has been crowded with major events such as the Merit Badge Exposition held at Sterling, with an attendance of 5,000 people, which was conducted in spite of adverse weather of 4 below zero."

350 at University
The University of Scouting was conducted at Dixon with over 350 volunteer men enrolled for training.

"Our organization met the call of President Roosevelt and mobilized 70 per cent of our enrollment at seven stated places throughout the area."

"The next outstanding achievement was the Blackhawk Area Camporee held at Pinehurst woods near Rockford. 700 Scouts and leaders camped there four days and nights and closed the outing with a circus pageant at the lighted stadium in Rockford."

"Troop camping and our council camp at Camp Rotary were successful, both financially and as to the number attending."

"We conducted a Boy Scout tour of education in citizenship to Washington, D. C., which was representative of the area."

Body of Strangled Seven-Year-Old Boy, Found Cramped in Old Trunk in Jersey Squatter's Hut

Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 12.—(AP)—A blue-overalled, seven-year-old grammar school boy, John Peeney, Jr., was found strangled today and crammed into an old trunk in a small, ramshackle squatter's shack near the abandoned bed of the Morris canal.

The rope with which the little boy had been strangled had apparently been picked up in the dumps surrounding the shack. It was lighter than ordinary sash cord, and had been twisted tightly about the boy's neck several times. A physician placed the time of death at approximately 9 P. M. last night.

The boy left his home in Bayonne, which is just across the canal bed that forms the Jersey City-Bayonne City line, after he returned from school yesterday afternoon. He was not seen afterwards.

Homicide squad detectives, who took over the investigation, immediately started a hunt for two men who were known to frequent the dumps in the vicinity of the shack. The men were wanted for questioning. It was said by police, who described them as a red-headed man and an Italian youth, who had been seen near the Morris canal. A band escorted Edward F. Dunne, U. S. Commissioner to a Century of Progress Exposition and former governor of Illinois, from the Federal building to the World's Fair grounds today. The occasion was Dunne's 81st birthday.

NEW DEAL HAS FAILED GREAT CROWD IS TOLD

Republican Rally at Oregon Yesterday Great Success

Probably 15,000 northern Illinois citizens heard the new deal condemned as a failure by over a score of prominent orators at the great Republican rally and barbecue at Oregon Thursday afternoon and were told by these speakers that the only road to national recovery lies in the re adoption of the tried and proven principles of the Republican party.

Heading the list of prominent afternoon speakers, which included both state and national party leaders, was Hamilton Fish, Jr., congressman from the home district of President Franklin Roosevelt in New York state.

At the start of his address Congressman Fish drew an outburst of laughter and applause from his audience consisting largely of northern Illinois farmers, when he charged that Roosevelt was not a dirt farmer.

"I am a member of the farm bureau, P. M. and the national granges, and operate a farm, but I'm not a dirt farmer. Nor is President Roosevelt," despite popular publicity to the contrary, any more of a dirt farmer than I am," he declared.

"The difference between the President and myself is that I admit I am not a dirt farmer while the President encourages that absurd myth about himself. We both live in country places or estates on the banks of the Hudson river, and the main difference is that the President's home is better manicured and polished than mine."

The speaker charged that business had lost confidence in the present "socialistic Democratic administration," and that recovery lay in the return to the Republican party to power.

"Unemployment is steadily increasing until today we have more men unemployed than we have ever had in this country, in spite of the fact that there are more than 4,000,000 persons on government payrolls at the present time. Estimates are that there will be a total of 20,000,000 persons on relief this winter, an appalling situation. Something must be done to stave the growing tide," the congressman declared.

Says NRA Failed
Turning to the NRA, which he declared he voted for at the personal request of the President, Fish termed the act a "complete failure."

If it had been successful at its cost of 15 billions of dollars, we would not have kicked, but now that it has failed, the situation is tragic."

"The new dealers are the most skilled propagandists giving out falsified information all over the country. They would have you believe that the Republicans have failed, that everything the GOP has stood for is rotten and that the industrial order must be scrapped for bureaucracy, state socialism, communism, and radicalism."

"The G. O. P. stands for party process for agriculture and an equilibrium between the products of the farm, the factory, and the mines," he pointed out. "We cannot have a prosperous America without fair prices for agricultural products and prosperous farms depend on the cost of production plus a reasonable profit for the farmers."

Other speakers during the afternoon program included C. Wayland Brooks and Milton E. Jones, the Republican nominees for congressmen at large from Illinois. Brooks, in a brief address, attacked the concentration of power in the executive chair and urged that representatives of the people rather than "rubber stamps" be sent to the national congress to represent the people of Illinois.

John Oglesby, of Elkhart, former lieutenant governor of Illinois, Congressman Leo Allen, who introduced Congressman Fish; Chauncey Reed of Wheaton; former Congressman W. E. Hull of Peoria, at approximately 9 P. M. last night.

The boy left his home in Bayonne, which is just across the canal bed that forms the Jersey City-Bayonne City line, after he returned from school yesterday afternoon. He was not seen afterwards.

Homicide squad detectives, who took over the investigation, immediately started a hunt for two men who were known to frequent the dumps in the vicinity of the shack. The men were wanted for questioning. It was said by police, who described them as a red-headed man and an Italian youth,

Head of Eastern Finance Company and Stenographer Missing; Funds of Company Short About $250,000

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 12.—(AP)—A far flung search, extending even to Mexico, was on today for Frank A. Tillman, 42, and his confidential secretary, Miss Beatrice Kauffman, of New York City, as authorities held bench warrants for their arrest in connection with a finance company shortage of $250,000.

Already, the law had reached out to nab Thomas J. Loveday and Louis A. Gerard, officials of the Underwriters Finance Company, of which Tillman was president, on charges of conspiracy to defraud the company and its stockholders.

Within a short time after their arrest, Loveday, assistant secretary and treasurer of the company and Gerard, vice president and director, authorities said, made statements concerning financial transactions in which they are alleged to have been involved with Tillman.

Judge Henry H. Hunt, receiver for the automobile finance concern of which Tillman was head, said that while the total loss to the company would be all of $250,000, taken during the last two years, Tillman probably had but $25,000 in actual cash with him when he vanished Saturday, leaving his wife in this city.

INSURANCE FOR RELIEF WORKERS BEFORE BOARD
Supervisors Discuss Matter at Special Session Today

The board of supervisors were assembled in special session today at the court house for the purpose of considering emergency subjects relative to compensation insurance for work relief men throughout the county. County Superintendent of Highways Fred Leake informed the board this morning that he planned to centralize the work relief projects in three districts for the accommodation of the several townships. He stressed the importance of placing unemployed men at work on these projects as requested by the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission.

The subject is one which involves the responsibility for furnishing compensation insurance for the workers. One plan outlined by the IERC provides that the individual townships may provide this protection while another places the responsibility upon the county. In any event the townships are urged to formulate projects for the hiring of the unemployed.

Will Cost About $5000
It was estimated that the expense of providing the compensation insurance would amount to approximately $5000. Supervisor Gilbert Finch of Ambury in discussing the proposal before the board at this morning's session discouraged the expenditure of this sum by the county and urged the outline of a program of projects in the various townships at the earliest date to provide work for the unemployed. He strongly favored the expenditure of this amount of money in the purchase of materials to be used on projects which would furnish employment for Lee county's quota of 14,400 man hours.

The Amboy supervisor further disapproved of the practice of cutting weeds and brush and opening ditches as a means of furnishing employment, and favored a series of improvements of a permanent type, suggesting the graveling of roads. He suggested that the county assume the compensation of the workers by means of a bond or other plan and that there be no delay in starting the work program.

Supervisor D. H. Spencer told the board that it was the intent of the IERC to put every man worthy of employment to work as soon as possible. The board adjourned at noon until 1 o'clock to permit the road and bridge committee to secure legal advice in disposing of the compensation question.

Review Board's Report
Supervisor Lucien D. Hemenway of Steward, chairman of the finance committee of the county board, presented an interesting report from his committee at this morning's special meeting, covering the activities of the board of review in their present investigation of the county records. The work is not to be extended over the period of the original duties of the board. Supervisor Hemenway stated, and it was his opinion that this work would be completed early next week.

In outlining the success of the extended investigation into the tax records of the county, Supervisor Hemenway reported that this body had been able to uncover notes and mortgages, not before listed for taxation, to the amount of $354,300, of which amount 40 per cent, or $145,680, had been placed on the tax books for taxation, providing more than $5000 in additional taxes. The cost of this service in the expense of the board of review and additional clerk hire amounted to $273.08 the report stated.

MAY SECURE DODGERS
Brooklyn, Oct. 12.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Eagle says today that James E. Norris of Chicago is negotiating for the purchase of the Brooklyn Dodgers of the National Baseball League and that "chances are very good" that control will pass to him during the winter.

At the Chief farm the house was ransacked, apparently for money, and about 30 cents was missing. Every room in the house was ransacked during the absence of the family between 7:30 and 10:30 last evening. Drawers were rifled and furniture and beds torn apart, presumably in the search for money. A small amount of change in a cupboard was taken. Entrance was gained by forcing a basement door and the intruder left by a front door. The Orner family had gone to Rochelle for the evening and upon their return discovered the household effects in a disheveled condition and upon investigation learned that the house had been ransacked. Two dogs were in the house during the absence of the family.

Ashton Loot Small
At Charles Krug's Silver Tavern in Ashton several cartons of cigarettes, about 25 cents in pennies and a small bull dog type revolver, a relic being taken from a drawer. An attempt was made to jimmy a window in the rear of the building and when the thieves failed, they crashed a pane of glass and entered. A light was burning in the tavern and their operations apparently were hasty as a large stock of tobacco was overlooked. In leaving, the rear door was unlocked. Mr. Krug discovered the robbery when he opened his place of business at 7 o'clock this morning.

The F. J. Blocher clothing store at Franklin Grove, scene of several previous robberies, was entered from the rear by breaking a glass in a door and bending protective bars on the inside. A storage room in the rear of the main store was the scene of operation and four coats were taken. The thieves did not gain access to the main store.

Candy Bars Taken
Mayor George Spangler's pool room was also entered and ransacked, entrance having been gained by cutting the screen on a door on the south side of the building and then breaking the glass in the door. From a store room in the rear several cartons of candy were taken. Other bars (Continued on Page 2.)

SUSPECT QUESTIONED
Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 12.—(AP)—Chief of Police John Britton said today Walter Childers of Charleston has been taken into custody for questioning about the kidnapping in Louisville, Ky., of Mrs. Alice Stoll. He said there has been no charge made against the man.

Britton said "we have just brought him in and are going to question him."

He added he knows nothing about Childers.

"We have some information," was the chief's only reply to questions why Childers was taken into custody.

The man was brought to police headquarters by city policemen A. C. Penrod and Thomas Mitchell. They said they found him at a residence on Capital street in "the triangle district," a Charleston "tenderloin."

He was immediately taken into Britton's office and was clobbered with the chief and Penrod.

Tufts of Hair in Car
Officer Tom Mitchell said Childers was brought in because of strands of brunette hair found in an automobile that Childers had sold to a Charleston garage for $18.

Mitchell said he saw the car in the garage last night and the investigation followed.

The automobile has a Kentucky license.

Mitchell said the garage man was dismantling the car when he first saw it, noticing it had a Kentucky (Continued on Page 2.)

MILK PRICE
Due to prevailing unusual conditions, it is impractical for the Board of Milk Producers to announce in advance the price it will pay for fluid milk direct from the producer. The price will be published within five (5) days after the period for which the company will have heretofore announced until after said milk is received at the price in advance. The price for milk delivered in September is $1.313 per cwt for 4 percent milk delivered and accepted.

TWO REGISTRATION DAYS
County Clerk Fred G. Dimick today called attention to the date for the registration of all voters for Lee county. All voters will be required to register on October 16 or Oct. 30 in order to be able to vote at the November election and the county clerk stressed the importance of the registration of all voters and not alone new voters.

ON FATHER'S COMPLAINT
Oliver Killian of Harmon township, formerly of Dixon, was arrested by deputies from the sheriff's office late yesterday afternoon on a warrant issued by Justice Grover Gehant, upon the complaint of William D. Killian, father of the defendant. The warrant charged that Killian had threatened to eject his father from the farm south of Harmon. Bond was furnished and the case was to be heard this afternoon.

BROTHER VS BROTHER
Almar Wiggins was assessed a fine of $25 and costs by Justice Grover Gehant this morning on a disorderly conduct charge preferred by his brother Frank. Almar was arrested last night by Sheriff Fred Richardson and Patrolman Harry Fisher, following a report of a cutting affray at the Wiggins home on Fargo avenue. Almar was reported to have slashed his brother across the hand with a razor during the course of an argument.

"SWELL" TEACHERS
Misses Esther Barton and Anne Hoffmann of the E. C. Smith school are conducting a party of twenty-seven pupils of the school's upper grades to the World's Fair Saturday. Most of these children have no other way of attending the fair and it is certainly a wise and kind thought of the teachers. The fair is making the admission tomorrow for the children at five cents.

FASTER TRAIN TIME
Effective Monday, the Northwestern's "Columbine" time will be shortened between Denver and Chicago. It will leave Denver at the same time as at present but from Omaha to Chicago will be a half hour earlier than at present. This will make it due at Dixon at 4:46 P. M. instead of 5:16 P. M. and arrival time at Chicago will be 7:15 P. M. instead of 7:45 P. M. This will make running time 25 hours and 15 minutes between Denver and Chicago.

FOR IMPROVEMENT
The B. N. Shoe company plant in this city will be closed for about two weeks while important improvements are being made at the factory. The cutting room will cease operation Monday to be idle until Nov. 3. The other departments will be closed as rapidly as the work is completed until after the first of the month. During the closed period, the entire interior of the factory is to be renovated and redecorated and other necessary improvements are to be made to the property.

front of the pool room.

Louis Zoeller, who conducts a lunch room at Franklin Grove, discovered the robberies this morning about 7 o'clock. In walking along a path at the north side of the Blocher clothing store, he found a small nickel-plated bull dog type 32 caliber revolver lying on the ground. Upon further investigation, he discovered the broken glass in the rear of the store and informed the owner. When Deputy Ward Miller went to Ashton, after viewing the robberies at Franklin Grove, he learned that the revolver, an antique, had been taken from a drawer at the Krug tavern.

this county. We are happy with our new associates from McHenry county, and feel that their boys, leaders, and towns are being benefited to their satisfaction from the arrangement.

"We were also able this year to bring the Scout program in its rightful way to the citizens of Belvidere—a place where misunderstanding was evident for the past ten years.

"I could speak of the railies and field days held all over the area, or of the hundred-odd Courts of Honor and the first aid contest held in each district, with the climax at Mount Morris. These things are fine—but the vital things, of utmost importance and permanent value, are the constant meeting of 17 troops and packs of Scouts and Cubes—the service rendered by the 800 Scout leaders, giving gratis of their time—the executive board, whose members have been loyal in their efforts to counsel and guide our Scout executive. Those volunteers who gave themselves and their time have contributed what money cannot buy, and for which we could not possibly afford to pay.

—It is priceless. To them I am greatly indebted as president of this Council.

"The national and regional officials have felt the work of the Blackhawk Area constructively, in no small way. Our council was represented at the national annual meeting in Buffalo.

"This is the work of a year very happily spent together for the good of our boys—a year of which you and I can be justly proud. We approach another year filled with opportunities and responsibilities greater than ever before. So I ask the cooperation of all in giving a better and greater service to boys in this Area."

Acceptance Address
In accepting the council presidency for another year Mr. Ralston said:

"When a number of the officers of the Blackhawk Area came to my home to discuss special Area questions, I can assure you that being asked to again take the honored office of president of the Blackhawk Area was not in my mind a remote possibility. As I had said on a number of previous occasions, that I had been greatly honored when asked to take the second year of the presidency, and that, under no circumstances, would I consider a third term. When this body of my associates and friends of the Area asked me to please consider the office for a third term, I sincerely thanked them for the great compliment they paid me, and told them that I could not entertain it, feeling that there were others in the Area who would fill the office better than I could.

"My friends, for the past two years I have what I consider is a very great privilege—

"First of all, to have the honor of being your President.

"Second, the privilege of knowing the Vice Presidents and officers who represent the rest of your Council, and

"Third, the wider contact with so many of the earnest volunteer workers of the Area.

Compliments Council
"When I looked about that circle, the other night, I saw and I realized, as I have many times, the character and energy of these men, and their unselfish giving of both time and energy to the work. I realized you cannot come shoulder to shoulder with men on a common ground—particularly when it is a ground that represents the advancement of youth—and not find pretty nearly what these men are made of—and I would like to take this occasion to compliment you upon the men that you have chosen as your officers and representatives in the Blackhawk Area.

"In order that you may know we have a definite, planned program and policy for the year 1935 which, in some respects, is a departure from our past practice. I wish to briefly mention some of the principal factors:

"1. Our Scout program will be more decentralized than heretofore by holding the major activities in the separate counties, which will develop greater local interest.

"2. There will be more emphasis placed on the development of the Junior program, which means Cubing—and the Older Boy program which means Sea Scouts—both through training more leaders which our organization is now better equipped to do than heretofore.

"3. The County organizations will be more effective, through more frequent contact with their resident local executives. This is made possible by increasing our executive staff, which now consists of the following capable men:

"George C. Dresbach, Scout Executive, with headquarters in Rockford;

"Harold Swits, Executive for the City of Rockford and Winnebago county;

"Robert Ellis, Executive for Boone and McHenry counties, residing in Belvidere;

"Herman Brandmiller, Executive for Whiteside county, residing in Sterling;

"Harold Boltz, Executive for Lee and Ogle counties residing in Dixon.

"Each county group has a Vice President who becomes its representative on the Executive Committee of the Blackhawk Area Council. Every Vice President is committed to the new program of holding monthly Board meetings in his county. This will result in a better local cooperation and a better brand of Scouting. It ought to increase the interest and membership in Scouting, reduce the turnover, and help to increase the general interest and number of annual contributors.

"5. The personnel will be further strengthened by means of further interviews with candidates for Board membership before they are given their responsibilities.

"There are two things of National, as well as of Local importance to Scouts and Scouters:

"First: The 10-year Program has advanced successfully two years, and must be kept in sight at all times. The Scout organization accepted the challenge of former President Hoover to have one of every four boys coming to vote by 1942, a Scout-trained young man with four years of training to his credit. We are told that goal will be reached.

"Second, in July 1935, will be held the Silver Jubilee of the Boy Scouts of America, and President Roosevelt has invited one boy from every Troop in the United States to be his guest, or the guest of the nation in Washington, during the several days of this jubilee. It will be a wonderful demonstration to see some 30,000 American Boy Scouts in one camp, which will be managed by officers of the U. S. Army.

"The work of this area requires careful financing and we have done our utmost to keep budgets down and have successfully kept close to our limitations. During the past two years we have passed through very difficult times, with many banks closed and much unemployment. We, however, feel encouraged for 1935 by the improved response to our appeals this fall in sections of the Area where campaigns for funds have been completed.

"In Rockford, we depend upon the Community Chest, and have been treated as liberally as possible, although we would welcome an increase in the percentage allowed to Boy Scouts. Prior to this year, about one-half the total number of Area Scouts were located in Rockford, but since the addition of McHenry county, about one-third of them are in Rockford. Therefore, from a financial standpoint, the local communities in each of the six counties of this Blackhawk Area Council must recognize their responsibilities for sharing proportionately in the expense of carrying on the program which we have undertaken. As your president, I am committed to help carry out the foregoing plans.

"There were good reasons for my feelings that I could not refuse to carry on a third term:

"One was because my associates insistently asked me to do it;

"Another, the inspiring leadership of our enthusiastic, tireless,

"One was because my associates insistently asked me to do it;

"Another, the inspiring leadership of our enthusiastic, tireless,

and capable Scout Executive, George Dresbach;

"But, above all, because it was in the name of BOY SCOUTS. Today, "Boy Scouts"—these two words—mean more to me than they have ever meant before. If there ever was a time in the world that we needed to uphold ideals of Faith, Loyalty to our Flag and Country, and Discipline—it is today. All we have to do is to read our papers. A king is shot by an anarchist—in San Francisco, mob-fighting—in the South, innocent men killed by mobs—in the various other parts of the country our United States troops being called out to keep order—in New York City a young army of thousands of boys marching, carrying a Red flag, and later being addressed by communists. And I repeat, if there ever was a time that we needed to implant in the minds of our youth the principles of Americanism, it is today.

"I firmly believe that if we give the average boy the fundamental training that Scouting offers, as expressed in the Scout Law—

"A Scout is—trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean, reverent—that we have done our utmost to put that boy on a straight road to the highest type of citizenship.

"I wonder if we realize the great importance of the serious lines of training the Boy Scouts offer. For instance, I know of a boy whose family never knew that he had a love of nature, and when he was sent to a camp there was a remarkable director who headed the nature study. The boy of his own accord did not want to take this course, but he was so intrigued by the nature work that he took it. That boy today is one of the great foresters.

"In our own homes what our children want most, or what their hidden talents may be, because it is impossible for us to offer them everything—and so it is that with the various branches of Scouting—whether it is nature, study, agriculture, architecture, camping, carpentry, chemistry, drafting, electricity, first aid, life saving, salesmanship, or any of the one hundred and more listed activities, all these avenues of interest are open to the Boy Scout, and may be the means of helping him find his future work.

"And speaking of training, I want right here to praise the greatest factor in Scouting, which is the Scout Master. I am sure very few of us realize how much responsibility is placed on the Scout Master. He is a man, who, because he has high ideals, and because he has the desire to help build citizens, devotes his time, his patience, his energy, without pay—to be responsible for a Troop of boys. To me, this is the greatest gift to Scouting, and I wish that I could awaken in this audience tonight a desire on the part of more men to give their time and help as Scout Masters. Back of the Scout Master is his Troop Committee, who must share his responsibility to a marked degree. Also, there are the local board members and the many volunteer workers whose unselfish and continuous cooperation is essential to the successful carrying out of our program.

"And then comes our general public—those who put up the funds to make the work possible—a different kind of gifts, to be sure, but necessary, nevertheless.

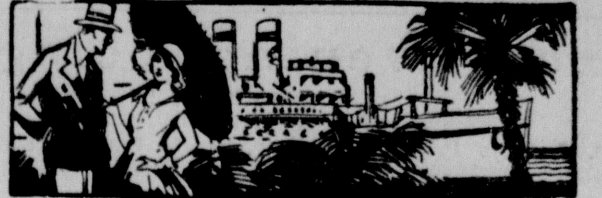

"So we all are here on a common ground, in the interest of Scouting—and if there is one message I would like to leave with you to night, it is: Let every one of us take on a little heavier "pack"—let each one of us join the army of Scouters, and further up the trail.

"I must confess I have a great thrill when I see a pack of Boy Scouts, knowing and realizing what those young boys are trying to attain, and what they are getting out of

THE CARNIVAL

By Helen Welshimer

THE carnival of San Remo is swinging down the street.

The villagers are dancing by the lights and long and sweet.

The fiddling men have special tunes, the lanterns light the square.

And it's been half a dozen years since you and I were there!

The harbor lights go walking by to meet the coming ships.

The peasant lads have eager eyes,
their sisters eager lips.

The houses tumble down the street,
the children never cry.

Beadmen offer colored strings to people passing by.

The fiddler asks a coin each time
he plays upon his fiddle.

The jester stretches greedy hands each time he tells a riddle.

Romance is fleet as April rain, and sweet as milk and honey.

We can't go back to San Remo—
we haven't any money!

Good Attendance

etc., etc. However some newspaper comment may be found below and as one reads the truth of all these statements assures one of Spalding's extra ordinary talents and attainments. For further information Mrs. Willard Thompson will be pleased to answer questions. Some of the newspaper comments:

"Spalding is a dominant figure in the world today as a violin virtuoso.
He plays not only with remarkable poise, with keen artistic intelligence, but also with a poetic style and with musical warmth and enthusiasm."

—Chicago Daily News.

"An afternoon without a flaw, the distinguished violinist was in his best form. Never has he played here with a surer and easier mastery of technical resource, with greater sensitiveness to every mood and inflection of the music, a more infectious ardor, a more captivating brilliance."

—Boston Post.

"One certainly can feel that America can rest her prestige safely in the supreme capabilities of this master of all phases of musical understanding. His presentation was an artistic triumph which the audience was quick to realize and tendered the master violinist an ovation that was riotous."

—Los Angeles Record.

"Albert Spalding, great violinist, opened portals of the infinite as only the purest art can. There was a golden beauty in his playing."

—London Morning Post.

"Rarely does one witness in Paris the spectacle of a French audience moved to tears by an American. Rarely does one see a huge throng of patriotic and intelligent Parisiens neglecting to throw their usual rapturous fit over ingenious products and then throwing a proper one over an Anglo-Saxon. All this happened, however, to Albert Spalding. Paris accepted him immediately as a great artist. There was no doubt about it. People yelled excitedly over him."

—Paris Herald.

"Spalding is musical blue blood.
His highly developed technique is of fabulous brilliance and pauses only on the brink of the impossible."

—Vienna Welt Blatt.

"Albert Spalding was accorded an ovation last night that was equalled only by Paderewski when he played here two years ago. The program itself was a brilliant display of violin playing, luscious tone and melodic flow, and, above all, a consummate musicianship and exquisite taste that have won for him a foremost place among the great artists of the world."

—Budapest Pester Lloyd.

Can Use Pianos

At Smith School

Miss Esther Barton who is principal of the E. C. Smith school let it be known yesterday that a couple of pianos could be used to good advantage at that school. In fact there is quite a need for them. It is stated that owners looking for a good storage could find no better place than the school room. The children would love to have one to sing with, to drill by and numerous other purposes any they, with the teachers, would give the piano loving care. The piano would also be in a warm place which is good for it, instead of a cold room as most storages are. If anyone has a piano to lend for storage, please notify Miss Barton, and it will be removed to the school.

HAPPINESS OF BOYHOOD ENDS ON A THRONE.

Little Peter Karageorge, who becomes a king at an age when most boys are thinking about schoolwork and games, seems to be one of the least enviable figures you could find in all the world of childhood.

A great many stories have been told about the good fortune of the boy who lives in a palace. But there are several million scrub-nosed kids in the United States whose chances for happiness are almost infinitely better than the chances of this little Serbian youngster.

The throne of Yugo-Slavia lies under a shadow. That part of Europe is not called "the cockpit of Europe" for nothing. The greatest of all wars began there; if another one comes, it is very likely to begin there too. To be king of Yugo-Slavia is to sit amidst powder kegs, waiting for menace to take shape beyond the borders.

But if there is danger from without, there is also danger from within. Since the Serbs won their independence from Turkey in 1804, the land has had eight kings—and only three of them died natural deaths while on the throne. Three were assassinated, one was driven out by revolt and another was forced to abdicate by parliament. Alexander's murder is only the latest in a long series of violent acts.

A turbulent land set down in a troublous and incalculable situation—that is Yugo-Slavia. And the 11-year-old boy who now becomes king of this land is one of the most pathetic figures in modern history.

A king is apt to be a prisoner of his own palace, even in the happiest of lands. The gold braid, the bowing functionaries, the guards of honor and the intricate web of custom and etiquette that surround a throne usually cut off all chance for existence as a normal human being. Whatever a king may do for himself or for his people, the one thing he cannot do is seek happiness in the ordinary way.

And if this is true for a grown man, how much more is it not true for a schoolboy!

Peter was in school in England when King Alexander was slain. From an English schoolboy he now becomes a king, with court chamberlains to wait on him and a plumed troop of horsemen to attend his coming and going. And the chances are exceedingly good that he will never again be as happy as he was before they fitted a crown on his childish head.

SOVIETS GAIN CONFIDENCE.

Evidence that the Russian government is growing more and more confident of its solidarity among the masses is to be seen in the new rules which liberalize the Soviet election laws.

Although the Russian government does not pretend to be a democracy, or to have a great deal of use for democratic processes, voting rights in the forthcoming elections for local Soviet governing bodies have been extended to the kulak class, to certain minor capitalists, and to various members of what the Communists like to term the "parasite" groups.

This, to be sure, is only a shadow of genuine self-government. The average Russian will have very little more to say about the way his country is to be run than he has had in the past.

But relaxation of these rules, unimportant as it is, would seem to indicate that the Russian government is feeling a new confidence in its own popularity.

FINAL DEFEAT OF A DISEASE.

News that scientists of the Pasteur Institute have at last perfected a vaccine for yellow fever brings one of the most heroic and inspiring chapters in the history of medicine nearer to its conclusion.

The fight to wipe out this great plague has enlisted some of the finest brains in medicine, and some of the bravest spirits. From Reed to Noguchi, the work has been in the hands of men who did not hesitate to risk their lives; and it has been carried forward with an intellectual skill and a patience that are nothing less than amazing.

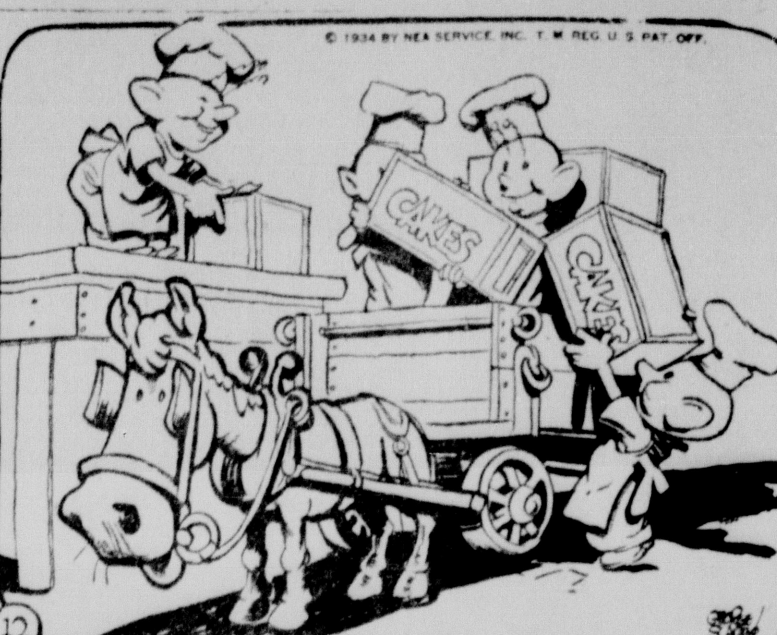

It is fitting, too, that two American scientists—Drs. Andrew Watson Sellards and Hans Theiler, both of the Harvard Medical School—should have played prominent parts in development of the new vaccine.

It was Americans who struck the first great blow in the fight against yellow fever. It is good to learn that Americans, also, were in on the last campaign of the war.

The trouble in America is that everything that comes out of Washington is considered authentic, without regard to who did the writing.—Eugene R. Black, former chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

This (Fascism) is a passage from one civilization to another. It signifies that it will be an economy which does not place the accent on individual profit, but is more concerned with the collective interest.—Premier Mussolini.

When business has some assurance as to what the dollar may be expected to be worth a year from now, then business may venture to plan a year ahead.—T. M. Girdler, steel executive.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"Well," Coppy said, "my work is now done. Gee, packing cupcakes was real fun." Just then one of the cupcakes jumped out of a box and ran.

"Hey, come back here," yelled Scouty. "You know that is not the thing to do. If you know what is best, come back as quickly as you can."

The cupcake answered, with a smile, "Aw, I just want to play a while. If someone tries to catch me, I will scamper out of sight."

"Oh, yeah?" answered Duncy. "Say, let's see you try to get away!" And then he started running toward the cake with all his might.

The chase was very short and sweet. The cake was captured by the feet, and put into the box again. "Now, stay there," Duncy cried. "You win!" replied the little cake. "I will not try another race. Instead of running off, I should have found a place to hide."

One of the bakers then said, "Now I'll quickly show you Times."

"All right," snapped Scouty. "Let's not shirk! It is time for us to get to work. Come, Times, help me pack the boxes in the wagon now."

"Aw, we will do that," one baker said. "You just sit down and watch. Instead you see, we have loaded cakes before, and so we know just how."

(Duncy has a wild ride in the next story.)

What the News Was Around Dixon in Years Gone By

50 YEARS AGO

The Telegraph of this date was printed over-size and consisted of four pages. Page four carried a full page advertisement of Fleck & Robinson, dealers in boots and shoes whose store was at Galena street, near Main. Austin Brothers, dealers in carpets and rugs, J. H. and C. H. Todd, hatters, and Tillson & Hayden, druggists carried large ads in this issue.

25 YEARS AGO

W. J. McAlpine started work excavating the basement for Charles Plein's new and modern theater on Peoria avenue.

Miss Alice Meppin suffered a fracture of the left arm at the elbow when she fell on the walk on North Dixon avenue.

Supervisor W. C. Jones, Dr. F. E. Morris, Sam Bacharach and Ward Miller went up the river today to spend the day at Camp El. Another party was composed of Dr. C. H. Birkhof, Frank Chiverton, M. J. Burrough and George Aschenbrenner.

10 YEARS AGO

Two million dollars have been sought in a bill before the legislature at Springfield to be expended in a building campaign at the Dixon state hospital.

Living Our Everyday Lives

LIBELED WORDS

(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton.) If words were able to bring actions for libel, some of our best words would win heavy damages in the courts. It is simply outrageous the way we mistreat noble and useful words.

We need a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Words. Not a few words are worn out through overwork and need rest. Simple words are employed to hide truth, and honest words are used to tell lies.

Humpty-Dumpty said that he made words mean what he wanted them to mean. All of us do it without any feeling for what the words were intended to mean. But words of all is the slander of words.

Take the fine word Habit in a sentence like this: "In middle life habits which begin as cobwebs tend to become cages." At once we see a poor wretch struggling in a tangle of mesh and then later being strangled to death by a network of iron ropes.

But what about the other side of Habit? Why should we not think of good habits in getting such a hold upon a man that by and by we may say of him, in reference to some wrong thing: "He is so in the grip of Habit, that it would be impossible for him to do it."

Or take the splendid word Heredity—how terribly it is misused! So and so is the victim of heredity, we are told; and we all know well enough what is meant. But what about the thousands who are beneficiaries of heredity, and reckon it as a blessing?

There are hosts of men who thank God for a healthy body and a balanced mind which they owe to the clean living of those who have gone before them. And how few ever think that heredity includes our divine as well as our human heritage? But no, instinctively we see only a bad meaning in a great, deep, beautiful word.

Will the word Discipline ever again mean training for service, not a punishment for wrong. When will the word Love be rescued from the bog of sentimentalism and lifted to its true right and worth? We need a new deal in the use and treatment of words.

Daily Health Talk

THE PSYCHOLOGY OF DEAFNESS

Milton's poem on his blindness, in which he first complains of his affliction and then seeks to persuade himself to carry uncomplainingly his burden, is undoubtedly an unmatched classic of its kind. However, paralleling it at a distance, and equally interesting, are the recorded prosaic complaints or observations of a variety of persons who suffered deafness.

To the subject of the psychology of deafness, Dr. Gordon Berry, himself a sufferer, recently contributed an illuminating paper.

He describes the world of the typical deaf child whose condition has not as yet been diagnosed as follows:

"The father thinks Tom is inattentive; the mother calls it preoccupation; the teacher suspects stupidity; his comrades think he does not care, or that he is queer or self-centered."

The deafness suffered by the child may progress even to the loss of 30 per cent of hearing capacity. Yet, the child will go on with no understanding of what is fundamentally the matter.

The boy in our example has no standard of hearing for comparison and consequently he cannot appreciate his own deafness. He will at first blame lowered voices and strange noises for his failure to hear. Finally, however, he must realize that something is wrong, but being able to do little or nothing about his state, he begins to "cover up."

This analysis of the psychology of deafness in the child does not over-dramatize the condition. It soberly states what we find in an appreciable number of children whose hearing and vision, too, are defective and who are not aware of their deficiencies.

Tomorrow—What Does Not Cause Cancer.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon to hear his wisdom, that God had put in his heart.—II Chronicles, 9:23

The clouds may drop down titles and estates, wealth may seek us; but wisdom must be sought.—Young.

People of Crimes

People of crimes are a strange mixture of Turk, Russian, Caucasian, Greek and Tartar, with the latter predominating. The peninsula was once a Tartar Khanate, the seat of which was Bakhchisarai, a rambling collection of Moslem buildings and gardens; there are old Genoese forts showing medieval interest in the country; Roman walls still stand; an impressive ruin, Khersones, is what remains of a once thriving Greek colony of 2,600 years ago. Sevastopol is the usual point of entry by land. Its pocket harbor and gracefully mounting rows of white-walled, red-roofed dwellings are reminiscent of some Mediterranean shore.

May Pool Their Movie Ambitions

As close as this, say Hollywood reports, are Cecelia Parker, 19, blond and blue-eyed cinema beauty, and Nelson Eddy, handsome young baritone, who was a newspaper reporter, telephone operator, trap drummer and plumber until he learned to sing from phonograph records and scored on a concert tour. The movie capital won't be surprised if the two decide to try for fame in double harness.

MONDAY FINAL DAY TO PAY OR RENEW C-H LOAN

Lee Co. Corn-Hog Com- mittee Issues State- ment to Borrowers

All outstanding corn loans must be repaid or renewed by October 15th.

"Reconstruction Finance Corporation has granted a commitment of $100,000,000 to the Commodity Credit Corporation for new government loans of 55 cents per bushel upon our corn stored and sealed on the farm pursuant to state law in the states of Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, South Dakota. It was announced today by Jesse H. Jones chairman."

Loans will be made upon corn of any crop year which, when shelled, would grade No. 4 or better. Producers whose present government loans are outstanding may obtain new loans upon the corn collateral by repaying their present loans and negotiating the new loans. The plan to be followed will be substantially similar to that employed last year.

Approval of new loans on corn by Reconstruction Finance Corporation and Commodity Credit Corporation makes non-effective and unnecessary the extension of the present corn loans recently granted. All producers who now have corn loans outstanding must either repay them or convert them into the new corn loan plan by October 15th. All corn collateral offered for new loans must be re-inspected and resealed by the state inspectors or sealers. New loans cannot be obtained in those instances in which the corn pledged as security to the present loans is damaged or improperly stored."

This means that the producers in Lee county who now have corn under seal can either pay off their loan and dispose of the corn or can pay off the loan and have the corn resealed at 55c per bushel. All present outstanding loans must either be repaid or new loan placed upon the present sealed corn. In order to renew the loan it is necessary that the present loan be repaid with accrued interest and other charges and a new loan made. This new loan will require the re-measuring, inspection, and re-sealing of the collateral. This will be handled the same as it was handled at the time that the corn was first sealed.

All producers who obtain loans are required at their own expense to keep the corn collateral insured, so long as the loan is unpaid, against loss or damages by fire, lightning, cyclone, tornado, wind storm and/or hail for not less than the loan with accrued interest, for the benefit of the producer and/or the holder of the note as their respective interest may appear. To comply with this requirement there must be attached to each producer's note a prescribed insurance certificate which can be secured from practically all insurance companies. The maximum rate allowed for this insurance is 75c per $100.00 per year. The period of these policies is one year and they are neither transferable nor can they be cancelled. The producer may insure the corn for only the amount of the loan plus charges or he may insure the corn for its present cash value. By doing this the producer would be insuring his equity on the corn.

The new maturity date is June 30, 1935. The new call price is 85c per bushel, in other words the government reserved the right to call the loan if the price of corn should reach 85c per bushel on No. 2 corn, Chicago Board of Trade. Old corn stored in temporary or unsuitable cribs will not be accepted as collateral for renewed loans. Lee county sealers are now ready to re-seal all corn upon new loans to be made. If you desire to renew this loan you should arrange to repay your old loans and make application for a new loan. You can make application to have your papers forwarded to any approved bank for payment through the Warehouse Supervisory Board of office at Amboy, Illinois, or through your local bank. Application for a new loan must be made through the Warehouse Supervisory Board at the Farm Bureau office at Amboy.

The Clev the Forgotten Murder

BEGIN HERE TODAY

When DAN BLEEKER, junior publisher of The Blade, learned that CHARLES MORDEN, police reporter, has been mysteriously killed he determines to employ SIDNEY GRIFF, famous criminalologist, to solve the murder. MORDEN had been assigned to learn all he could about FRANK B. CATHAY, wealthy and prominent, who had threatened to sue The Blade because the newspaper reported Cathay had been arrested. Later it was proven that the man arrested, giving the name of Cathay and accompanied by a girl called MARY BRIGGS, was an impostor. MRS. CATHAY sues Bleeker for libel and will drop the charges if The Blade publishes a retraction, and this it does. A day later MORDEN is found dead. Bleeker receives a telephone call from the editor of the River-view Chronicle. As he puts down the telephone KENNEY, city editor, asks, "What did you find out?"

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

DAN BLEEKER's face gave no hint of excitement. "Frank B. Cathay," he said, "died about 20 minutes ago. For some reason they were trying to hush up the news of his death. Beckley sent a veteran reporter out to the home. The reporter got wise to it. There were two doctors and there's going to be a scandal. One of the doctors says Cathay was poisoned."

Kenney stared at Bleeker with wide, startled eyes. "Poisoned!" he said. Bleeker nodded.

"That," said Kenney, "makes things look a little tough for his wife. I presume there was a lot of property."

"Around two million," Bleeker said.

"How long had Cathay been sick?"

"He was taken sick yesterday morning. Apparently there's no question about the illness. He was stricken at his office. He was taken home and put to bed. As usual, the doctors fooled around with a lot of fancy ideas, and then Cathay lost consciousness. That was about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He's been unconscious ever since. He died without regaining consciousness."

"Then his wife," said Kenney, "must have known he was seriously ill."

Bleeker nodded his head in slow acquiescence.

"And," Kenney went on, "the man was on his deathbed when she and the lawyer made such a hurried trip down here to quash that libel case. Why did they do that if Cathay was going to die? Dead men can't bring libel suits. And it's not likely that their reputations will be blasted."

"Perhaps," Bleeker remarked, "they didn't know how serious the illness was when they came down."

KENNEY gave a cynical laugh.

"If she gave him poison," he said, "she knew how serious the illness was."

Bleeker's tone was impatient.

"You use a lot of 'ifs,' he said. 'As a matter of fact, if she did have anything to do with giving him the poison, she couldn't have given herself any better break than by coming down here with the family lawyer. It shows that she was loyal to her husband's interests, and that's all to her credit.'

PROGNOSTICATOR BARKER PUTS ON HIS IRON HELMET

And Boldly Tells Who Will Win All Grid Games Tomorrow

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, Oct. 12—(AP)—Donning iron helmets for protective purposes and operating on the theory that the best defense is a strong offense, football prognosticators plunged anew into their weekly task today.

Utterly disregarding the explosions of last week, here's how the slate for today and tomorrow shapes up so far as can be discerned from this neutral corner.

Pitt-Southern California—The Panther finally gets a shot at Howard Jones' Men of Troy in his own backyard. If Jack Sutherland's buckies don't get revenge for those Rose Bowl wallpoppings of 1930 and 1933 it won't be because they didn't try. Southern California, soundly whipped by Washington State, will present a new lineup that may prove dangerous but the betting nevertheless is on Pitt.

Purdue-Notre Dame—Both were beaten in their debut last week. Purdue will have Duane Purvis and Jim Carter this week and the Boilermaker attack should not stall so frequently as it did against Rice. Strictly on a hunch, though, this particular guesser leans in the general direction of Notre Dame.

Picks Ohio State
Ohio State-Illinois—Perhaps as close a ball game as the card offers, but this ball game to the Buckeyes if they can find the answer to Jack Beynon's passing.

Navy-Marine—Another for Tom Hamilton's sailors but it may be close.

Yale-Penn—Both beaten last week but the Elis showed more against Columbia than Penn did against Ursinus. A vote for Yale.

Stanford-Northwestern—This looks like Stanford's year.

Georgia Tech-Duke—The Engineers ruined Duke's perfect record last year and probably will pay for it tomorrow.

Southern Methodist-Rice—Both strong, both tied Louisiana State, leaving the would-be prognosticator in an even more embarrassing spot than usual. If it's not a tie, the toss of a coin says Southern Methodist.

Cornell-Syracuse—Cornell isn't as bad as the defeat by Richmond indicated by Syracuse's veterans get the call.

Army-Drake—Well, it's a nice ride to West Point.

Likes Warner's Owls
Oregon-Washington—They're still talking about Oregon's rout of U. C. L. A. but Jimmy Phelan's boys may be too tough.

Temple-Indiana—There's scoring power to burn in Pop Warner's Temple eleven and the Owls are favored.

Florida-Tulane—The Green Wave of Tulane.

Michigan State-Carnegie—Carnegie hasn't opened up with its full bag of tricks but State looks much stronger.

Michigan-Chicago—Reaching into the pet fedora, and the answer is "Michigan."

Oklahoma-Texas—It should be stress to skip this one but disregarding the consequences, Texas after a brisk battle.

Harvard-Brown—There's considerable doubt whether Harvard is ready for this one.

Georgia-North Carolina—Despite the close call with Furman, a ballot for Georgia.

Texas A. & M.-Centenary—The

gentlemen of Centenary get the call.

Gives Iowa Budge
Iowa-Nebraska—The Cornhuskers are toughest at Lincoln but Dick Crayne and Oze Simmons seem to give Iowa the budge.

West Virginia-Washington & Lee—Possible tie material here; otherwise, West Virginia.

Columbia-Virginia Military—The Lions should take this one in stride.

Mississippi-Tennessee—Tennessee the choice.

Iowa State-Missouri—Can this be the end of Missouri's long "dry" stride.

Manhattan-Georgetown—Probably close but Manhattan looks good.

Princeton-Williams—Fritz Crisler has enough players to take on all of the "little three" the same afternoon.

Wisconsin-Southern Dakota State—Clarence Spears' Badgers of course.

Auburn-Louisiana State—L. S. U. should get past its obsession for ties in this one.

Kentucky-Clemson—Kentucky is improving rapidly and should win.

Just a Breather
New York-West Virginia Wesleyan—N. Y. U. the indicated choice despite the Bobcats' 3-0 victory last year.

Alabama-Mississippi State—Alabama.

North Carolina State-South Carolina—Unless Hunk Anderson has repaired the Wolfpack's defensive gaps, this vote goes to South Carolina.

Colgate-St. Bonaventure—The Red Raiders roll on.

Dartmouth-Maine—Likewise Dartmouth.

Holy Cross-Catholic—And another one.

Tulsa-Texas Christian—Tulsa picked in a close one.

Baylor-Arkansas—Arkansas' Razorbacks should win comfortably.

Utah-Brigham Young—One more for the Utes.

Fordham-Boston College—Jimmy Crowley's Fordham Rams are plenty tough.

Detroit-Washington & Jefferson—The Presidents seem due for a beating.

Kansas State-Marquette—A slight edge for Marquette.

Bucknell-Duquesne—The Dukes barring accidents.

Citadel-George Washington—Citadel taken by storm.

??? DO YOU ???
REMEMBER
One Year Ago Today—Jimmy Fox was voted the most valuable player in the American League for the second year in a row.

Five Years Ago Today—The Athletics scored 10 runs in the seventh inning against the Chicago Cubs to win their third victory in the world series, 10-8.

Ten Years Ago Today—Richard, the French motocyclist, set a new record when he covered 100 miles in hour 7 minutes.

Lasky and Hamas to be Rematched Plan of Garden Promoter

New York, Oct. 12—(AP)—Despite his defeat last week, Art Lasky, Minneapolis heavyweight, apparently will have no trouble keeping the wolf from the door this winter.

The disputed decision which Steve Hamas won over the mid-western slugger last Friday night has led Jimmy Johnston, Madison Square Garden match-maker, to try to re-match the boys over the 15-round route.

Hamas' handlers have indicated no keen desire for another Lasky match but Johnston says they'll either agree or he will begin negotiations for a bout between Lasky and Max Schmeling, Joe Jacobs, the German manager, was due at the Garden today to talk over terms.

GRANGE AT ILLINOIS HOMECOMING SATURDAY

Harold "Red" Grange, most famous of football players, will return to the Memorial Stadium Field where he made football history a decade ago, as guest of honor at the Ohio State-Illinois homecoming game next Saturday. Ten years ago Grange at the dedication of the stadium scored four touchdowns on Michigan in 12 minutes. The picture shows the Galloping Ghost after receiving the ball on the first kickoff en route to a touchdown.

Urbana, Illinois, Oct. 11—As Bob Zupke is putting the final touches on the Illinois football team for the Red Grange homecoming battle against Ohio State in Memorial Stadium Saturday, there is a rush for tickets which presages a crowd of 30,000, the largest in some years.

Already more than three times as many tickets have been sold as had been disposed of at this time before the homecoming game against Wisconsin on the corresponding date last year.

The combination of what seems certain to be another thrilling struggle with a powerful Buckeye eleven, undoubtedly a strong contender for the championship, the always colorful reunion of old grads and other sympathizers and the return of the famous Galloping Ghost is proving irresistible.

With most of the 69,000 seats in the stadium on the sides of the field "between" the goal-posts even the latest-comers may be certain of good locations, Manager C. E. Bowen assures. One of the heaviest sales on the day of the game is expected.

Campus and Champaign and Urbana are already gay with the Scarlet and Gray of Ohio State and the Orange and Blue of Illinois and the Grange motif dominates the traditional decorations. The official decoration bears the famous numbers, "77" and a picture of the glorious head.

Grange will arrive by plane Friday afternoon, make two broadcasts, one at 5:30 over eastern Columbia stations and the other at 6:30 over the Western chain of the system, then speak at a huge "pep" meeting on the drill-field at 7:15 o'clock at night. Many members of the "Grange teams" of 1923, 1924 and 1925, will hold a reunion. Two other famous teams will gather, the 1914 and 1915 championship squads.

Grange aroused many demonstrations in his day but the one that will greet his arrival at the stadium Saturday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock should eclipse them all.

The Illinois band of 160 pieces, which again took St. Louis by storm last week, will play a big part in the pageantry of the day with new maneuvers and formations to honor the grads, the Buckeyes and the immortal Red.

The largest crowd of Ohio State partisans which ever traveled from Buckeye to the stadium will come by special trains and automobiles to support the opponents of the Illini. The state of Ohio is wild with enthusiasm over the new Buckeye coach, Francis Schmidt and his team, which stamped itself as one of the strongest in the Big Ten by its slashing victory over Indiana with five touchdowns.

By general consent, the Ohio State-Illinois battle tops the fall-decade western card this week and the leading sports writers will be here. A crowded press-box with telegraph instruments clicking merrily will send the news of the battle far and wide.

It will be a great setting for a great game. Small wonder that the ticket office is working nights.

game will start at 2 P. M.

A chicken supper will be served by the ladies of the parish from 5:30 to 7:30 P. M. and a full program of games and entertainment is planned. Among the speakers will be John Devine and Judge Wm. Leech.

Dancing will be enjoyed from 9:00 to 12:30 with music being furnished by Sword's Music Masters, a ten piece orchestra of Oglesby. Hartnett will be the Master of Ceremonies.

FANS WILL FIND OUT WHAT IT'S ABOUT SATURDAY

Answers to Many Foot- ball Questions May be Supplied

Chicago, Oct. 12—(AP)—Big Ten football fans who couldn't believe their eyes and ears last week when the first big returns came in will find out if it's all so tomorrow.

Is Michigan, crushed last Saturday by Michigan State in one of the most astounding upsets in years, really weak or was Michigan State that good? Chicago, apparently out of the woods with a better than fair team this season, should supply the answer to that one.

How about Purdue, beaten by Rice, and Notre Dame, beaten last week by Texas? Forty-four thousand fans are expected to watch them clash tomorrow at Notre Dame in one of the most interesting and evenly matched battles of the entire season. Defeat for either will just about ruin a season for their respective coaches.

And Oze Simmons, Iowa's 175 pound Negro backfield flash? Is he another Fritz Pollard on the loose? Nebraska's cornhuskers, tough men on enemy football sensations, may answer that and supply Iowa's Big Ten opponents with a system of stopping the ebony flash who beat Northwestern a week ago.

Big Game at Urbana
Ohio State, led by a new coach in Francis Schmidt, and Bob Zupke's 22nd edition of Fighting Illini are two other big questions. With Red Grange sitting in as the honored guest of the day, those two rivals should engage in one of the most bitterly fought games of the season. The Big Ten, generally, is more heated up about that game than any other. Out of it may emerge the conference champion for 1934.

Very few have been sitting up nights figuring out the other games involving Big Ten teams Saturday. Indiana, which invades Temple at Philadelphia, has been beaten by Ohio State; Northwestern, trounced by Iowa, apparently has gone a long way to get another licking from Stanford; and Wisconsin was expected to have nothing but success—and a good workout—against South Dakota State at Madison.

At Full Strength
With a few exceptions, all of the teams will enter tomorrow's battles with their full fighting fronts. Quarterback Jack Beynon, shaken up during drill Wednesday, was regarded as a sure starter against Ohio State, which took 13 backfield men along, Duane Purvis and Jim Carter, Purdue's touchdown twins, also were expected to play at least a part of the Notre Dame game. Indiana also was strengthened by the return of Don Yoder and Adolph Sabik, backs, and Red Stevenson, guard. Exceptions included Ferris Jennings, Michigan's sophomore quarterback, who was limping, and Clarence Dee, Iowa guard, who was hurt in the South Dakota encounter.

Beloit's Stadium to be Dedicated at Game Tomorrow

Beloit, Wis., Oct. 12—Beloit college grid machine will return to the "air" Saturday when the Gold entertains Cornell college of Mount Vernon, Ia.

An effective aerial attack produced in the season's opener against the University of Dubuque again has been inserted in the local eleven's bag of tricks as Coach Bob Jaggard grooms his charges for the annual tussle with the Iowa aggregation.

Along with the all-important Cornell game, Homecoming festivities and the dedication of the new Walter Ansel Strong Memorial stadium, a gift from the widow of the late Chicago newspaper publisher, are expected to attract hundreds of Beloit grads to the Line City this week end.

Trojans Will Seek to Disprove Hints
They're Movie Mad

Kansas City, Oct. 12—(AP)—Quietly determined to disprove charges that they were afflicted with "movie madness", 43 gridmen from the University of Southern California sped eastward today to the den of Pittsburgh's mighty Panthers.

Howard Jones, the headman of Troy, laughed yesterday as he read statements from the Daily Trojan student publication, that the players had become "toys to some henna-haired beauty"; playthings of the movie magnates and had been "wined and dined" by the mercenary interests in the film colony.

"Maybe it's true," smiled the grizzled coach. "But they can't laugh at any Trojan team. We're not going to play any movie game against Pittsburgh Saturday, and you can bet on that."

The statement appeared in the Trojan after Southern California's 19-0 defeat by Washington State last Saturday.

Six Lost Lives in Blast, Fire Today
In Halifax House

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 12—(AP)—Explosion and fire wrecked a three story dwelling house Thursday leaving a toll of at least six dead.

The blast shook the north end of the city; a sheet of fire rose 100 feet into the sky and the structure lay in ruins.

The dead are: Mrs. Daniel Dudas, wife of the building owner; Peter Dudas, 1, and Don Dudas, 3, her children; Mrs. Robert Cruise, wife of an unemployed laborer, and Kathleen and Joseph, her two children. The body of a man employed by Dudas and who may have been in the building, was sought in the ruins.

Cause of the blast was not determined. Dudas, who was away at the time, told police questioners there was no gasoline in the building and "not more than a stick of dynamite."

Allow Coral to Grow
The necessity for conservation of natural resources is recognized by the Algerian coral industry. The Algerian coral reefs are divided into two regions, only one of which is dredged each year. This allows each reef a period of ten years between dredgings in which to regenerate through the action of the tiny polyps which are responsible for the growth of the coral structures.
